15. All linear measurements on a plan shall be shown either in feet and decimals of a foot or in feet and inches.

16. Directions shall be shown on the plan in quadrantal bearings referred to the cardinal points.

17.—(1) The origin of the bearings shall be stated on the plan in note form.

- (b) the identifying numbers, letters or words of the land in clause a.

19. Subject to section 35, the limits of subdivision units created by a plan shall be shown on the plan by solid lines of a consistent weight and heavier than the lines referred to in section 18.

(3) Sufficient data shall be shown on the plan to permit the calculation of a closure of each subdivision unit on the plan, except in the case of hanging lines, which shall be designated as being verified.

23.—(1) Every plan shall be certified on the plan by the surveyor in Form 1.

(2) Subject to subsection 3, every plan shall contain a true copy of the field notes of the survey, and the field notes shall be certified on the plan by the surveyor as follows:

and where a true copy of the field notes is filed under subsection 3, it shall be certified by the surveyor as a true copy thereof.

24.—(1) A plan shall show,

- (a) the bearing and length of each straight line forming any surveyed limit or part of any surveyed limit, except that, in the case of a tier of lots that is shown by dimensions to be a series of parallelograms, the direction of each of the side lines of the lots may be indicated by the bearings at both ends of the tier;
- (b) the radius, arc length, chord length and bearing of each curved line forming any surveyed limit or part of any surveyed limit;
- (c) the perpendicular or radial widths of all streets, lanes and public passages of which the limits are parallel or concentric;
- (d) the straight line distances and bearings between the points of street intersections on the same side of the street and, where all or part of an intersection is on a curve, the radius, arc length, chord length and bearing of the curved portion; and
- (e) the location of the radial centre of an arc that forms the end of a cul-de-sac, clearly defined with reference to the street or streets approaching the cul-de-sac.

(2) Where the arc of a simple curve joins a line that is not tangent to the curve, the junction of curve shall be shown as "not tangential".

(3) Where space does not permit the showing of the chord length and bearing in their normal position in respect of the curve, they may be shown in schedule form in some other convenient place on the plan.

25.—(1) Subject to subsection 2, there shall be shown on a plan all roads, streets, lanes, railway lands, rivers, canals, streams, lakes, mill ponds and marshes lying within or abutting the surveyed land.

- (b) bearings and distances of stadia measurements;
- (c) information relevant to any other method by which a natural boundary is determined; and
- (d) information relating to the boundaries and ties with other surveys and land boundaries.

(5) The particulars required by subsection 4 shall be shown along the appropriate course on the plan, but where this is not practicable they may be shown in a schedule if they are identified and related to the appropriate course on the plan.

26.—(1) Each subdivision unit into which an area of land is subdivided shall be designated on the plan by a number or letter or by words and if a designation is by numbers or letters these shall follow consecutively and there shall not be more than one subdivision unit designated on the plan by the same number, letter or words.

(2) Vincula shall not be used in the designation of a subdivision unit.

27. A subdivision unit on a plan shall not be designated as a "parcel".

30. An easement or other right of way existing at the time of the survey shall be shown on the plan.

To this Act the Royal Assent was announced by the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly in the following words:—

"The Honourable the Lieutenant Governor doth thank Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, accept their benevolence and assent to this Bill in Her Majesty's name."

The Honourable the Lieutenant Governor was then pleased to deliver the following gracious speech:—

Mr. Speaker and Members of The Legislative Assembly of Ontario:

The Fourth Session of this Twenty-sixth Parliament has nearly come to its close, and you have accomplished much during the past few months. You have intensively scrutinized the matters which are of concern to the government, including legislation, the Budget Statement, the estimates of the various departments, and the reports of departments, boards, commissions and committees that have been presented. I extend my thanks to all of you for your arduous labours. As this is the last occasion on which I will be addressing the members of the House, I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all of you for your many kindnesses during my term as the representative of Her Majesty, the Queen, in this great Province.

As a result of your consideration of the various matters of government, you have increased the living standards and heightened the security of our people, and enhanced the development of our resources. I am sure that it is a great pleasure to you to have accomplished this without increasing taxes and, rather, to have carried out reductions in a number of taxation fields.

Through the legislation you have approved, your government will be able to continue the outstanding economic and social advances that have marked the history of our Province during the last twenty years and to provide further opportunities for our people. Many forward-looking measures designed to carry out this program have been presented for your consideration and have received your approval, including the following:

Medical Services Insurance

This legislation has the objective of making certain that full, non-cancellable medical services coverage will be available, without compulsion, through insurers to all citizens of Ontario regardless of age and health. Included is coverage by the government for those who cannot provide it for themselves. This legislation, which has been considered by the House, will be reviewed by a representative committee which, as well as examining it, will receive representations from interested parties, so that the government will have the benefit of the thinking of all segments of our people before the Bill is presented to the Legislature for final consideration.

Portable Pensions

After due consideration, Honourable Members have passed The Pension Benefits Act, which makes provision for a basic minimum pension with rights of vesting and portability for the main body of our working population. This Province is the first jurisdiction in America to introduce such a far-reaching measure to ensure pension rights for its people.

Education

Several important matters affecting the education of our young people have been brought forward by my Government and have received the approval of the Honourable Members. These included a statement about the basic principles of a new system of educational grants which will serve to ease costs at the local level for all segments of our people. Highlights of the legislation passed concerned: The Secondary Schools Act, which was amended to bring the provisions respecting non-resident pupils in line with the re-organized program of study for secondary schools and to provide for the education of Indian children by local school boards. The Public Schools Act also provides for the education of Indian children by local school boards and for a procedure whereby a school section in unorganized territory can become inactive. The Separate Schools Act was amended to clarify the Act following the recent decision of the Supreme Court with respect to the right of a pupil to attend a separate school. Provision was made for the formation of regional library co-operative boards in counties. The Department of Education has been empowered to make agreements with the Federal Government respecting technical and vocational training and physical fitness.

Universities

You have made generous provision for our universities, having set aside the sum of nearly $70 million by way of operating and construction grants. This includes $3 million for those universities which carry out graduate training, to enable them to expand this work, as well as the sum of $1.5 million for the Ontario Graduate Fellowship Program. Legislation has been passed to set up Trent University at Peterborough and the University of Windsor.

Ryerson Polytechnical Institute

The Ryerson Polytechnical Institute has been set up and provision made for a Board of Governors to manage its affairs. This will give more independence to the former Ryerson Institute of Technology.

Assistance for Retarded Children

Through several new measures you have provided greater assistance for the retarded children of this Province. The Homes for Retarded Children Act enables the Province to make grants of $2,500 per bed to local associations which provide residential facilities for the less seriously retarded children who do not require care in a provincial hospital and, as well, provides maintenance assistance for them. The capital construction grants to be made to associations for retarded children for the construction of residential schools has been increased to 50 per cent and the operating allowance for these schools is also being increased.

Welfare and Security

As a result of the approval given by the Honourable Members to legislation introduced at this Session, generous benefits will accrue to children who reside in children's institutions. Under new legislation, the municipalities of Northern Ontario will have the opportunity of establishing a consolidated welfare service within each district. The Government is making special arrangements for widows and unmarried women by reducing the commencing age for allowances for this group to sixty years. This will assure this group of women, on an extended basis, a constant source of income under provincial auspices and will also serve effectively to relieve the burden of welfare expenditures on municipalities.

Junior Farmer Establishment Act

Recognizing the necessity to strengthen the position of the family farm in our rural economy, you have passed a Bill to enable loans to be made to a junior farmer or a family partnership or corporation of which a junior farmer is a member or director. The maximum loan possible under the Act has been raised to $20,000, while the amount obtainable has been increased to 80 per cent of the value of the security and the maximum term of a loan has been extended to thirty years. Provision has also been made for a provincial guarantee of bank loans for operating expenses.

Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act

The Honourable Members gave their approval to an Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act, to enable projects to be carried out to foster our natural resources of land and ensure the growth of a healthy rural economy, by way of projects such as the development of community pastures, drainage and reforestation and alternate land use, so that the rural resources of Ontario would be utilized to the best possible advantage.

Food Council

You have authorized the setting up of the Ontario Producers, Processors, Distributors and Consumers Food Council, made up of representatives of these broad segments of our society, with the objective of promoting methods to ensure the orderly marketing of agricultural products, with special attention to the current problem of vertical integration, conducting studies on crop conditions, markets and tariffs, promoting research into the development of further markets, and stimulating the advertising of agricultural products.

Meat Inspection

Legislation passed at the last Session of this House to ensure the sale of meat and poultry in prime condition has been strengthened by a further measure to ensure that all meat and poultry produced and sold in Ontario will receive inspection.

Farm Products Marketing

Steps have been taken to place all producers of farm crops on an equivalent basis and to ensure improved marketing conditions for our farm products through amendments to The Farm Products Marketing Act, which clarifies the voting procedure in regard to setting up new local marketing boards, and strengthens the regulation of the production of flue-cured tobacco.

Industrial Expansion and Employment Opportunities

Honourable Members have given approval to the Government's economic program designed to increase greatly production and job opportunities, while ensuring an equitable distribution of employment and income and maintaining stable prices. This program includes the work of the Ontario Development Agency which will provide to industry assistance by way of guarantees as well as technical and managerial aid; the Ontario Trade Crusade, which provides the means whereby new markets can be found and new industries developed; the expansion of the activities of the Ontario Economic Council in various ways; the undertaking of several special nuclear energy studies with a view to a nuclear program involving the possible expenditure of half a billion dollars, in co-operation with the Federal Government and private industry; various study and research programs; expanding Government support for research; an expanded annual Manufacturing Opportunities Show; completing the organization of the Conference of Women of Ontario; sending sales missions into world markets; and many additional and related measures.

Labour

The legislation dealing with our working people will assist in ensuring their protection and welfare, and has placed our position in this field among the most advanced of any jurisdiction in the world. The Minimum Wage Act has been amended to permit minimum wage rates to be set on an hourly basis and to exclude gratuities from wages as defined in the Act. A minimum wage order affecting the construction industry in the Metropolitan Toronto area is being formulated for early promulgation, and other orders relating to business and industry will be applied in progressive stages throughout Ontario. The Wages Act has been amended to provide that every employer will furnish a statement of wages to his employees. You have passed an Act to provide for the safety of persons engaged in logging operations and to further ensure the safety of workmen using construction hoists. Under The Workmen's Compensation Act, the maximum earnings upon which compensation may be paid have been raised to $6,000 from $5,000 per annum, and the waiting period reduced from five to three days. The pension allowances for children other than orphans have been raised to $40 per month and for orphans to $50 per month, from $25 and $35 respectively. The Labour Relations Act has been amended to provide for the continuation of bargaining rights of the trade union where a business is sold or transferred, and to enable the Labour Relations Board to settle any contention as to which, if any, trade union is the bargaining agent where the employees of two or more establishments become intermingled after a sale.

Parks

There has been provided the sum of $5 million to acquire parts of the shorelines of the Great Lakes and other needed lands for parks, as the start of a $200 million, 20-year land acquisition program to provide for the province's future park, recreational, public hunting and fishing, and related needs. Legislation has been passed to establish a four thousand square mile recreational area near Killarney.

Municipal Highway Grants

In addition to the $100 million construction program you have approved for all areas of the province, Honourable Members have, in response to the need for additional assistance for our highways and roads system at the municipal level, increased the provincial contribution toward the cost of construction on connecting links to cities and separated towns to 75 per cent from 50 per cent, and to other urban municipalities with a population of over 2,500 to 90 per cent from 75 per cent. The amount voted for development roads has been considerably increased. The Government will also be enabled to assist counties, townships, cities, towns and villages in the financing of road expenditures by making advance subsidy payments against the current year's estimated road expenditure, and to subsidize the construction and maintenance of storm sewers on highways under the jurisdiction of municipalities. The method of determining extra subsidy assistance under the Act has been changed and a further number of townships will therefore become eligible. You have also made provision so that the Province may pay a grant to Metropolitan Toronto in respect of its expenditures on right-of-way construction for the Bloor-Danforth Subway and have approved $20 million for the purchase of debentures issued for subway purposes by Metropolitan Toronto.

Tax Easement

The weight of taxation on the people of this Province has been eased in a number of ways. Through amendments to The Succession Duty Act, a true exemption of tax on $60,000 passing to widows, plus $10,000 for each dependent child, has been provided. The exemptions for beneficiaries in the stranger class has been increased to $10,000. Another amendment reduces the duty payable under certain circumstances by collateral and stranger beneficiaries. Several amendments to The Corporations Tax Act have increased allowable deductions from the income received by corporations. These include the deduction of 150 per cent, rather than 100 per cent, of a corporation's increased expenditure on scientific research, and on an extension of the expenditures it makes in exploring for and developing mineral and gas resources. A tax credit against the logging tax has also been provided. In order that the Government may have expert technical advice respecting provincial taxation, the Ontario Committee on Taxation has been established to investigate thoroughly and report upon all aspects of our tax structure.

Representation in the Legislature

The Government has received the approval of the House to a Bill to provide sixteen new ridings to replace the present six ridings in that part of Metropolitan Toronto lying outside the City of Toronto. This will provide greatly increased representation for this area which has a rapidly growing population and has consequently become under-represented.

Arts Council

You have established the Ontario Arts Council and supplied the necessary sums to enable it to support the cultural advances, particularly among our young people and at the local level, which are developing in this province, and to encourage the active participation of local communities and groups.

Municipal

Included in the important legislation to which you have given consent was a new Municipal Drainage Act, which is the result of intensive study and consolidation of existing drainage legislation, to make it adequate for present-day requirements. Important amendments have been made to The Assessment Act for the purpose of clarifying the basis of farm assessment. The exemption of railway hotels from business tax and railway steam plants from real property and business assessment was wholly or partially removed. Assessment on a County basis may now be undertaken by a majority vote of the County Council, with the approval of the Minister of Municipal Affairs, instead of by the unanimous vote of the County Council as formerly. The Municipal Unconditional Grants Act was amended to provide that the Province will now pay 80 per cent of the cost of hospital insurance for indigents in addition to 80 per cent of the cost of hospitalization of indigents. The Planning Act was amended to give municipalities the power to require buildings to be rendered resistant to termite infestation and to pay half of the cost involved, up to $250.

Proceedings against the Crown

Among the Acts you have passed or amended to create or enlarge the legal remedies and rights of individuals has been The Proceedings Against the Crown Act, 1962-63, which will remove most of the immunities and privileges possessed by the Crown and will, with certain exceptions, enable a person to sue the Crown and its servants in the courts in the same manner as any person may be sued.

Expropriation Procedures

Through The Expropriation Procedures Act, the House has established uniform procedures to be used by the various government departments and agencies in expropriations, which are to be carried out expeditiously and with adequate notice and information to the persons affected. This will remove many of the difficulties which arose when each department followed its own procedures. The Act also contains provisions designed to reduce the financial strain on persons affected by expropriation.

Legal and Securities Administration

The Collection Agencies Act, The Mortgage Brokers Act and The Real Estate Brokers Act have been amended to provide that licences to carry on these forms of business cannot be refused, revoked or suspended without giving the licensee an opportunity to be heard. The latter Act also contains provision to control the sale in Ontario of land outside of Ontario and to increase the maximum fine that may be imposed on corporations violating the Act. The Surrogate Courts Act was amended to provide for appeals from surrogate court judges where an appeal is not otherwise provided for. The first group of a series of amendments designed to modernize The Registry Act and to provide a complete revision of it over a period of years was passed.

The Deposits Regulation Act, 1962-63, provides protection to finance companies soliciting deposits from the public. It requires that such a company must maintain a liquidity of at least 60 per cent of the amount so deposited. An amendment to The Ontario Securities Commission Act provides for the re-organization of the Commission, the appointment of a Director and adequate hearing and appeal procedures. The Public Works Creditors Payment Act, 1962-63, provides for payment by the Government in the first instance of employees, suppliers and creditors where the general contractor gets into financial difficulties or goes into bankruptcy, with the Government having recourse under the bonding arrangements and hold-backs.

Insurance

The Insurance Act was amended to facilitate the issue of uniform liability insurance cards across Canada, to provide more adequate reserves for some classes of insurance and to revise the mortality tables and methods of valuation of life insurance contracts.

Corporations and Social Clubs

Following the recommendations of the Roach Report, the legislation dealing with corporations has been amended to strengthen the Government's control over social club charters, with the Provincial Secretary being empowered to hold hearings to which he can subpoena witnesses and documents, and to carry out effectively the cancellation procedures.

These measures and many others that you have passed will further stimulate the economy of our Province and promote the expansion of production, employment and income, as well as extend the security and well-being of all our people. The Honourable Members, by approving the policies the Government has presented, have shown their overwhelming confidence in the efforts being made to continue the economic development and social progress of our Province.

I express my sincere thanks to the Members of the Legislature for the diligent work they have done at the present Session. My appreciation is also extended to the civil servants of the Province whose patient tasks are so necessary in the carrying on of the machinery of government.

In closing, I express the hope that Divine Providence will guide you and bless you in the months and years ahead.

The Provincial Secretary then said:—
